SATAN WOULD KEEP HIM BUSY

Father of Evil Well Knew the Value of Spreader of False Rumors Among Peoples of the Earth.

Imagine this scene to be at the iron gates of Sheol. Over the entrance you see the horrible sentence: "Lasciate ogni speranza" or whatever it was that Dante said when he meant there were no excursion tickets to be had. And as soon as you are past the portentous portals, imagine that Satan himself greets the party, as follows:

"Well, what's this bunch?"

"We," says the spokesman, "are a company of rumor-spreaders. These other fellows simply pass the rumors along, not knowing where they come from. But I'm the one that starts 'em."

"Fine!" says the father of infamy. "Leave the party to me, but you go back for another load. I believe in encouraging merit."

Boy's Few Years Busy Ones.

The crowded life of a boy who at the age of twelve could neither read nor write and was placed in a special school for backward boys was told by Councillor Black at a meeting of the Brighton (Eng.) Education committee recently. The boy, whose name is Munnery, turned out to be one of the first boys in the practical class, and on leaving school at fourteen he joined the training ship Arethusa. Here he became the champion swimmer in the ship, and was next professional boxer in the Impregnable. In August, 1914, he was sent to a submarine tender, transferred to the Glory, and went through the fighting at Gallipoli. He has been on continuous service throughout the war, and is just nineteen now. Councillor Black said if life were counted by the crowding of events and not by years Munnery's record would be hard to beat.

Worse Than Pulling Teeth.

Wild and disheveled, watery of eye, and trembling of limb, he burst into the dentist's consulting room and addressed the molar merchant in gasping tones:

"Do you give gas here?"

"Yes," replied the dentist.

"Does it put a man to sleep?"

"Of course."

"You could break his jaw or black his eye without him feeling it?"

"My dear sir, of course."

"It lasts about half a minute, doesn't it?"

"Yes."

With a wild whoop of joy and relief the excited man threw off his coat and waistcoat.

"Now," he yelled, as he tugged at his shirt, "get your gas engine ready. I want you to pull a porous-plaster off my back."—Tit-Bits.

Queen Saw a Difference.

L'entente cordiale as a phrase was first used by an English foreign secretary, Lord Aberdeen, in 1843, when Louis Philippe was king of France and Queen Victoria was queen of England. Politicians of the two countries cherished an illusory hope of strengthening, by dint of a secret political entente, the now discredited principle of the balance of power in Europe. Queen Victoria was induced, by way of oiling the newly devised machinery, to pay a six days' visit to the French court. It was her first visit to the continent of Europe, and the brief experience drew from her the naive comment: "Everything is very different to England, particularly the population."

The Adventure of Youth.

All the amazing science of war flying is in the hands of boys and youths. Rarely is a successful airman found who has reached the age of forty. Lieutenant Colonel Piccio of Italy, with a score of 17 airplanes brought down to date, is the only ace in the world who has reached this age. On the other hand, fully a score of celebrated fighting aces are under twenty. It is a young man's game and by the experience and invention of these young men will this important arm of warfare evolve and become perfected.

Had Forgotten the Art.

James had just started kindergarten. One evening he came rushing home with a sheet of paper containing his first attempt at penmanship and asked his mother to read it for him. She looked at the illegible writing and said, "James, I'm afraid I can't read that for you," whereupon James assumed a dignified air and said: "Oh, that's right, it's been such a long time since you went to school. No wonder you can't read it."

The Superwoman.

Miss Henballot—No, I shall not promise to obey when we are married. I shall never obey anyone.

Mr. Harfax—How about the cook? Going to do your own housework?

Some Town.

"Is your town progressive?"

"In some ways extremely so. For instance, you can hear more scandal there than you can in New York."

How "Victory Bun" Is Made.

"Victory bun" is a new contribution to the food conservation campaign. It is the discovery of William E. Doty, a baker of Miami, Ariz., who spurs sugar in favor of raisins. Here's the way it's done: Two pounds of water, one ounce of salt, two pounds of wheat flour, twelve ounces of rye flour, two and one-half ounces of yeast, one and one-half pounds of seeded raisins, one ounce of vegetable oil, one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon. This recipe will make 60 buns.

CALEDONIA COUNTY

SUTTON

Mrs. Walter Craig has a new Victoria.

E. E. Forbes has sold his farm to a Mr. Lee of Canada.

Henry Whipple was out of the F. A. Holmes store several days recently on account of sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hussey have moved to Concord onto a large farm which they recently purchased.

Mrs. Nettie Bundy is very sick with pneumonia. Her daughter, Mrs. Harvey, is at home helping to care for her.

Mrs. C. E. Coburn and granddaughter, Miss Clara, visited in Lyndonville, Centerville, and St. Johnsbury the past week.

SUTTON NORTH RIDGE

G. H. McFarlane has been quite ill recently.

Avery R. Curtis spent some time in Beebe recently.

Durward McShane was in St. Johnsbury Saturday.

Ernest Buck of East Haven is spending a week-end at home.

Mrs. Fecteau and son were visitors at W. J. Buck's last week.

Lawrence and Richard Wood of Lyndonville spent the week at E. E. Grant's.

Rev. C. L. Pontbriand and Harry Gaudette were at G. H. McFarlane's for the hunting season.

Mrs. Maude Grant and Mrs. Richard are busy playing in different towns for dances, etc.

Arthur Curtis, E. E. Grant and Richard and Lawrence Wood were the fortunate hunters in securing deer.

WEST BURKE

Miss Alice Ames was a week-end visitor in Orleans.

Mrs. Nellie Brockway has been quite ill with the grip.

Mrs. Mae Coe is boarding with Mrs. Ida Powers for a while.

Hugh McFarlane and family have gone to East Haven for the winter.

Miss Doris Marshall of St. Johnsbury spent Sunday with friends in town.

Mrs. Susie Smith and Mrs. Walter visited relatives in Island Pond recently.

Mrs. W. R. Thurber has been entertaining her sister, Mrs. Thayer, of Coventry.

G. A. Jamieson went to Montpelier last week to attend a superintendent's convention.

Mrs. Walter Nelson and little daughter of Burke visited in St. Johnsbury the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Howard have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Howard during the past week.

Mrs. Ellen Densmore, who has been with her sister in Milford, Mass., for several weeks, is at home again.

Earl Fyler is still very ill but it is thought that the crisis has passed, and it is hoped that he will improve soon.

Herbert Rood, Ed. Craig and Will Allard brought home deer meat this past week, and there have been many others, of whom we have not heard.

There will be a pageant, "No Room in the Inn," on Sunday evening, December 26th, and a real Christmas social with a tree for the children on Christmas eve.

Edwin B. Smith, who has been ill during the summer and autumn, passed away on Saturday afternoon at the age of 83 years. An appropriate obituary will appear next week.

John Donaldson has moved into the tenement vacated sometime ago by Ernest Robbins. Mr. Donaldson has also rented the livery stable for the winter, which will be a great convenience to the traveling public, now that autos are going into winter quarters.

A. V. Wiggins of Syracuse, N. Y., was here recently on business. He is a member of a manufacturing company in his city and we understand that he has purchased the creamery property in Burke, which will be opened for manufacturing purposes in the near future.

Mystic Lodge, D. of R., gave a reception in their hall on Tuesday evening of last week to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wark of Sutton. Mrs. Wark has been a member of the order for years and it is hoped that her husband will soon join. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served and the recently wedded couple were presented with a half dozen teaspoons and three large tablespoons.

The church sale was a real success in every way and over $150 were realized from the supper and the sale of all the various articles contained in the very attractive booths. The committee feel very grateful to everyone who helped in any way to make the sale something we shall like to remember. The entertainment in the evening was good and added to the general feeling of good fellowship and good cheer.

A Hard Stroke.

First Ribbon Clerk (after receiving a glassy stare from the girl he met on his vacation)—And she did not even speak to me. Look at the way she holds her chin up.

Second R. C.—And remember the hours you held that chin up teaching her to swim last summer.

A Sure Silencer.

"Then you never kick about household expenses?"

"Nope."

"How's that?"

"My wife would tell me to run the house."

One Better.

"Brags won't let any one get the better of him. The other day when a man boasted of the fine ruby he had on his finger, what do you think Bragg said?"

"What did he say?"

"It was nothing to the carbuncle on his neck."

Insufficient Sweetness.

"Sweet are the uses of adversity." Nevertheless, it is a poor substitute for sugar when it comes to canning.

It's a Waltham Riverside.

For Holiday Time

An unusually pretty breakfast cap is here offered as a suggestion for a gift. It is a spirited model made of taffeta silk and almost covered with crisp, plaited frills of taffeta ribbon. Such a cap requires a crinoline support and a lining of thin silk.
